

CONSULTATION@WORK STRATEGY

OUR VISION: NSW workplaces manage health & safety successfully through effective communication and consultation.

OUR OBJECTIVES

NOV
2016

MAKING IT HAPPEN

OCT
2018

BUILD Capabilities

Support NSW workplaces to build their capability to consult.

We will consult broadly about the strategy.

Improve our capability to support business and ensure compliance.

Build awareness and capability for NSW businesses.

Review and improve HSR training courses.

Build HSR capability by developing best practice consultation information.

BUILD Resources

Develop resources for NSW businesses and workers to improve Consultation@Work.

Produce plain English resources for NSW businesses, HSRs and workers (including contractors and labour hire workers).

Produce best practice consultation case studies/videos, showcasing what good consultation looks and feels like.

Develop handouts and templates for running effective consultation.

Run a targeted campaign to promote best practice consultation.

BUILD Connections

Improve engagement opportunities with major stakeholders, industry networks, HSRs and others involved in consultation.

Share information with other regulators intrastate and nationally.

Improve communications and engagement with HSRs.

Develop feedback mechanisms to enable better communication between SafeWork and NSW businesses, HSRs and workers.

Create a SafeWork NSW video to include in HSR training course and other mediums.

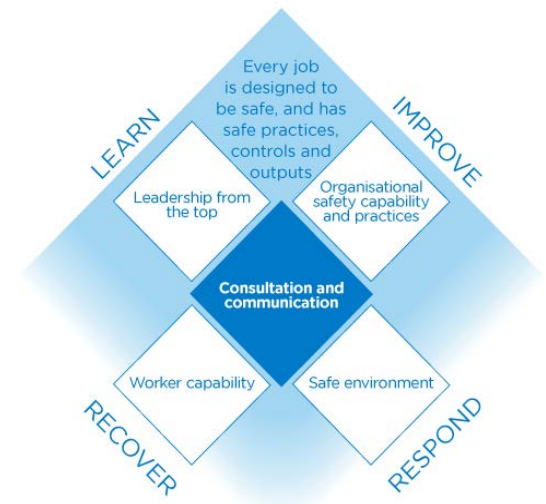

Engage with industry stakeholders.

Improve our social media presence to be more proactive and interactive.

CONSULTATION MATTERS

Consultation and communication hold all elements of the Safety Landscape together.

Consultation ensures that workers make a contribution to health and safety decisions. By consulting and communicating with the worker who knows the job, better safety outcomes can be achieved.

DRIVERS

- WHS RoadMap for NSW 2022
- Australian Work Health and Safety Strategy 2012-2022 (SafeWork Australia)