

AMENDMENT TO AN EXPLOSIVE LICENCE – APPLICATION

EXP – AMD OCTOBER 2016

This form is to be used by:

- a nominated responsible person or driver to advise that they no longer work for an explosive licence holder and/or
- all explosive licence holders to:
  - add or remove nominated responsible persons and/or drivers
  - add storage to an existing licence
  - change explosives to be used, handled or stored (must have storage already authorised on the licence)
  - advise of changes to the site address or storage details – for example adding or removing a magazine
  - add an additional authorisation – for example add a mobile processing unit (licence to manufacture explosives and/or security sensitive dangerous substances (SSDS) only) – or add the authorisation to export explosives and/or SSDS (licence to import or supply or manufacture explosives and/or SSDS only).

A security plan is required to be submitted if you are requesting storage authorisation on your licence or changing a storage address. If you are changing an existing plan and not adding storage, you do not need to submit the security plan with the application, unless requested to do so by SafeWork NSW. For more information refer to the guide for licence applicants for the specific explosive licence for which you require an amendment. These are available on the SafeWork NSW website www.safework.nsw.gov.au.

If an explosive licence holder needs to change their name or business/trading name, they must use either the Change of details – application (catalogue no. SW08163)). Both forms are available on the SafeWork NSW website.
